

Training For You, LLC Presents: NE Fall Training 2017

Oct 26, 2017 at the Holiday Inn Express Ashland, Ohio.

Training For You

Trainingforyou.net

A day of informational session for water & wastewater employees. Sessions subject to change check website www.trainingforyou.net regularly for updated sessions. We try not to overlap sessions, we've checked the following classes and as far as we can tell there's no overlap of session approval numbers.

Website: www.trainingforyou.net

Session 1: Backflow Prevention Basics: This session will cover the basics of backflow prevention. O&M

Session 2: Water & Wastewater Welding and cutting torch basis - This session will cover the basis of using welders, and cutting torches in our jobs. O&M

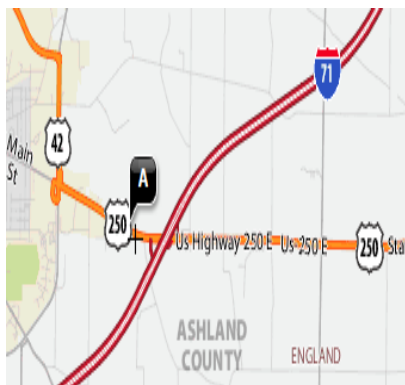

Session 3: Slips trip and falls - OSHA required this revised training to be completed by Spring of 2017, a good way to get up to date on this requirement. X

Session 4: Flow meters & Level Devices - We will take a look at various flow meters, and level devices, their applications, limits and some trouble-shooting. O&M - I'm going to try to get a vendor to come in on this one.

Session 5: Electrical troubleshooting in water and wastewater - This session will take a look at the more common electrical problems we encounter in our jobs, also will cover testing of electrical circuits. O&M

Session 6: Maintenance Qualified Electrical Person: Have you ever wondered if you are qualified to get into the electrical panels at work? This session will cover who's qualified and who's not, and what's needed to be considered qualified. O&M
